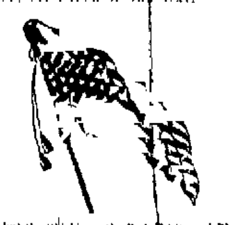
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE



No Flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue
With its Stars [illegible] an unbroken [illegible] true!
Arise [illegible] ye sons of the brave
Whose [illegible] the banner you [illegible] must save

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 19, 18

Let it be Settled Now

Two things, Slavery and the idea of [illegible] State Sovereignty, working together, led the South into rebellion. The first rendered the people of that section averse to republican government; the last afforded them as [illegible] many thought a justification for their conduct in withdrawing from the Union. Slavery is to be destroyed forever. If there are any who would save it they cannot hope to do so. Since the people are determined to settle this question of slavery, now that they are upon it, there ought to be an equal purpose to define with precision the limit of State rights, and the extent of National sovereignty, so that none may hereafter presume to place the authority of a single member of the Union equal to or above that of the United States at large.

We have among us those who still insist on the perpetuation of the doctrines of the overworn resolutions of '98 and '99. If these resolutions embody correct ideas, and form a rule by which the powers of the Government are to be interpreted, it is as absurd as it is impossible to deny the right of any member of the Confederacy (for then the Union is no more than a Confederacy,) to withdraw at will. On this ground the rebel States seceded and if we grant their premises (these resolutions,) correct, the inexorable rules of logic must pronounce them to have done right. If the doctrine of State sovereignty as still taught by a not feeble faction in the North be true, then the late insurgents were not rebels. Then Robert E. Lee has done no wrong. Then A. H. Stephens is, and has always been a patriot. Then the Government in punishing those who disregarded its authority, has done an unjust and wicked thing. Then a New York paper was right in saying there had been no rebellion.

Had it not been for the constant inculcation of the idea that the allegiance which is due from the citizen to the United States is subordinate to that which he owes to his own single State, it is safe to say that the great rebellion could never have occurred in the manner it did. The people who rebelled were educated into the belief that each State acknowledged no authority superior to its own. To reconcile the public mind to an error so glaring was the work of years to procure its adoption required still further time. But when it once came to be thought a truth, it naturally led the Southern people to renounce the allegiance which belonged to the General Government and to assume to withdraw from the Union. Unquestionably this doctrine of State sovereignty has had honest supporters. Many have believed it true. How they can so believe is a mystery. The notion is repugnant to every correct idea of Government, and yet it is even now contended for.

At this crisis, when other errors are being cleared away, this one also ought to be eradicated. Just now political ideas are in a transition state, and while the tendency of things is in the right direction, the profoundest political error that has ever prevailed in our country should not be suffered to remain uncorrected. Truth is easier than error, and a very little investigation will convince all who are willing to know it, that the founders of the Republic meant to establish a Government that should be supreme within the sphere of its authority and to which every citizen, in the words of Henry Clay, would owe a "paramount allegiance."

MR. LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG SPEECH. Since Mr. Lincoln's death, everything he ever did or said is invested with a peculiar interest. In simple eloquence many of his speeches are not to be surpassed. Perhaps the most beautiful of all his later addresses is the brief oration he delivered at Gettysburg on the occasion of the dedication of their National Cemetery at that place. Emerson says it "will not easily be surpassed by words on any recorded occasion." Here is that speech:

MR. LINCOLN.—Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will not note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which those who have fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

RETURNED TO PORTLAND. Mr. T. J. Dryer, a man well known and remembered by everybody in Oregon as the founder of the OREGONIAN and for a long time its editor, returned to this city a day or two since. On Saturday he gave this office a call. Of course we were all much gratified in seeing him. It is now nearly five years since he left Portland. He went from here to the Sandwich Islands as Minister Resident from the United States. Having resided there two years, he returned to California and went thence to Washington. From that city he started west again, and reaching Denver City remained there some time. Last fall he came from Denver over to [illegible] city where he resided during the winter and spring. He now comes to Portland again. He finds here a welcome from all his old friends. We learn that it is his purpose to remain permanently at his old home.

TO THE "FRIENDS OF HUMANITY." British sympathizers have been urging the people of the South to continue their resistance and to sacrifice their property in support of a "righteous cause." Now that these people are impoverished by having followed their perverse inclinations and the advice of their abettors, the New York Times calls upon the haters of "Federal tyranny" across the water to come to the relief of their pauperized Southern friends who are in danger of dying of starvation. A most excellent opportunity for the exercise of charity is now offered to these "friends of humanity." Will they give a grant to alleviate the suffering they have aided to bring about? Of course not. Humanity with them is to kill and destroy, not to preserve and restore.

Ould, late rebel Commissioner for the exchange of prisoners, was arrested by order of General Grant. It turns out that he stole about $200,000 worth of goods which came into his hands for the relief of Union prisoners.

THE HISTORY OF A FLAG. Fiction will can hardly vie with its portrayals of devotion and sacrifice to the love that its heroes and heroines bear to ward each other but the war has developed facts of enthusiasm to steadfastness [illegible] the country and to the emblem which times romance and enriches poetry. An instance of this we find in the conduct of a Hudson river pilot named Peter Lord who was captured in April, 1863, by a rebel cruiser on or near Roanoke Island while in the employ of the government. Just before its capture he concealed the Union flag of the vessel on which he was employed in one leg of his sailor's ample trousers and for two [illegible] months [illegible] kept it [illegible] Libby Prison [illegible]. On the Fourth of July the prisoners had a celebration at which orations were pronounced, processions moved, and this American flag was floated conspicuously over all. It was thought [illegible] course [illegible] to deny its existence [illegible] it was [illegible] with the package of soiled clothing and a hint given to the faithful laundress, who kept it until a vast number of rebel officers for the [illegible] brought multitudinous curses to their [illegible] lips. After its return it was unsuspiciously [illegible] up in the lining of his haversack, and although that article was at one time carefully searched for concealed weapons not a suspicion of the treasure it contained was excited. The pilot was recently exchanged and the scene that ensued is thus described:

The moment he touched our lines he tore open his haversack and almost with magic spread the Stars and Stripes—the Libby old flag—to the breeze! The effect is described as terrific. Cheer on cheer was raised by the brave boys that surrounded him. The General in command rode up to learn the cause of the excitement, and when the matter was explained he took off his cap, waved his sword and ordered that the flag should be promptly greeted. The greeting was given with all the ardor of patriotic lungs.

At this moment a Brigadier General who had just been released from a rebel prison, approached, and asked if pilot Lord would honor him with the privilege of carrying that flag?

"No, Sir! I have protected it for nearly two years in Richmond. It has celebrated our Fourth of July there. I am now on Yankee soil, and although not a military officer, I am competent to protect that flag as long as I live!"

THE ELECTION TO-DAY.—Much interest has been manifested during the past week in reference to the City election, which is to take place to-day. We were pleased that the Union party of the city several evenings ago, nominated a full ticket. That course we regarded as perfectly proper. Surely it cannot but receive the approbation of all good Union men. There was perfect unanimity among the members of the party as to the propriety of calling the City and Ward meetings. In the meetings, some who were voted for, were nominated, and some were not. We understand that some who failed, are not willing to acquiesce in the will of the meeting in which they took part. We regret that this is so. It may be thought a very small matter to refuse to support the nominees of one's party in a local election, but it is just here that disorganization begins. The nominations were fairly made, and probably there can be no more objection to the nominees generally, than if any other parties in the city had been named for office. It is not possible, nor even desirable to please everybody. If those who we hear are going to persist in appearing as candidates in opposition to the expressed wish of the party of which they profess to be members, will not withdraw, of course they have a legal right to do as they please. But we admonish all true Union men to beware of the disorganizers, and vote the ticket which was regularly put in nomination. The safety of the country has long depended on the concerted action of the Union party, and though a defection of this kind may seem insignificant, yet it prepares the way for further discontent and may bring about still more considerable divisions. Let those who desire to appear as candidates, do so, but we think true Union men will see the propriety and even the [illegible] ity of supporting the regular nominees.

THE MONTGOMERY (ALA.) PRESS.—A correspondent of the New York Herald, at Montgomery, Alabama, gives the appended account of the newspaper press of that city:

That notorious peripatetic concern, the Memphis Grenada Jackson Atlanta Montgomery Appeal, was printed here, but plumed its wings for a more congenial clime, upon the first approach of Wilson's dashing dragoons. I understand it has gone to Macon (Ga.), where, no doubt, it breathed its last sigh of desperation over the fallen fortunes of Jeff, as Gen. Wilson now occupies that city. Its proprietors fondly hoped to make it the chief "thunderer" of the magnificent empire the rebels expected to establish.

The organ of the fire eaters here, and the special toady of the boasting and vulgar Watts, who ruled the State pretty much as "Uncle Jeff" directed, was the Montgomery Advertiser, edited by the Simon-pure Secesh in general, and [illegible] in particular. I understand it fled with the decamping Governor and his precious archives to Eufaula.

The only journal here and indeed throughout the whole State, that seems to have [illegible] the least independence and spirit in defense of the people, and in condemning and denouncing the Richmond despotism, is the Montgomery Mail, which is still in successful existence under the [illegible] star spangled banner which floated over its cradle and birth. The Mail, in better days, was the [illegible] of Johnson Hooper, well known to the readers of the old New York Spirit of the Times as the author of "Simon Suggs." Its present editor is the Southern humorist, "John Happy," Albert R. Porter, late of the Nashville press. The Mail has done much good in directing the tone of Southern sentiments and in combatting the absurd prejudices created by designing politicians of the Yancey and Davis school.

"EXTRA BILLY" SMITH. According to the Richmond Bulletin this historical character who acted as Governor of Virginia for some months under the Davis dynasty, was in Staunton on Sunday the [illegible] and stated to the citizens of that town that he had appointed a Committee of two gentlemen to proceed to Washington in order to ascertain whether "the present State Government," of which he still regards himself the head, was to be recognized by the authorities at Washington. The same night, hearing that our troops were approaching to occupy the town, he left for parts unknown. We have a piece of news for the fugacious dignitary. General Halleck, in an order dated Richmond, May 8th, has offered twenty five thousand dollars reward for the arrest of "William Smith, rebel Governor of Virginia." We venture to assert that if he will put in a personal appearance at Washington he will be "recognized" without delay. Let him make the experiment if he doubts it. Twenty five thousand dollars will pay the expenses of the trip. He will doubtless be entertained while in Washington at Government expense.—New York Times.

THE LONDON TIMES ON CHARLESTON.—The London Times, November 26, 1860, delivered itself as follows:

It is evident on the smallest reflection that the South even if united could never resist for three months the greatly preponderating strength of the North.

September 11, 1861, it remarked in this wise:

The public will admit that they have not been misguided by our comments. We said that the North could never subdue the South and the North has now proclaimed the same conclusion.

Finally, on the 19th of April it proclaims thus:

The catastrophe seems complete and in all its accessories calculated to impress people with a feeling that the work is accomplished and that the civil war is really at an end.

For four years the Copperheads have been asserting that if the South should be overcome by force it would be necessary to keep a standing army there to preserve peace. Now they show their consistency by asking the Government to withdraw its forces before quiet is fully restored and substitute the civil for the military authorities.

A proposition was lately made in the Senate to pay a thousand dollars for a marble bust of the late Chief Justice Taney, to be placed in the Supreme Court Room. The appropriation was not made.

Pennsylvania has sent about two hundred and fifty thousand men to the war. Of these, over fifty thousand will return to their homes no more.

A rebel paper says: "President Davis and family have arrived at Fortress Monroe." Can cool ness beat that?

DIRECT IMPORTATION. – We have information from reliable sources to the effect that nearly, or at least three-eighths of all the freight brought from clipper ships at the port of San Francisco in the first week of June was for Portland and other points in Oregon. The regular freight on the line between that port and this taken from such vessels, which make it but one transfer, and bring it to Oregon, is nearly as large as that originally charged from New York to San Francisco. The question naturally presents itself to our thinking of this matter is, how long will Oregon merchants and the business community of this State submit to this system of bringing their goods to market? The vessels which leave New York could land her cargo at Portland for a dollar or two per ton above the cost of shipping it to San Francisco, while we are compelled to pay seven dollars per ton extra for having it brought to us from there. This is a subject which commends itself to our business men and one that should not fail to awaken an interest in the matter of direct importations. So long as we consent to pay such heavy tribute to California, so long will we continue to be a way port, and fail to reap any of the advantages due to our position in the commercial world.

SCHOOL REPORT. – Mr. L. P. Beebe, Principal of the District School in this city, has handed us the quarterly report of scholars in attendance during the quarter ending on Friday last, from which we gain the following:

Department – Miss F. A. Way, Assistant; number of male scholars [illegible], females 33; average daily attendance [illegible].

Intermediate Department – Miss F. S. Way, Principal; number of male scholars [illegible]; females [illegible]; total 73; average daily attendance 51.

Primary Department – Miss Caroline Kang, Principal; Miss F. A. Henderson, Assistant; number of male scholars 107, females 117; total 224; average daily attendance 158.

RECAPITULATION.

Whole number of male scholars	[illegible]
female	[illegible]
	[illegible]
Average daily attendance for the quarter	[illegible]

We may add that the school is in a very flourishing condition. The want is still felt for more room, but as the Directors are expecting to let the contract for the erection of another building soon, there is no need of comment on that point.

[illegible] – Attending a funeral a few days since at the cemetery across the river, we noticed a species of vandalism that should bring a blush of indignation to the cheek of every one who has placed a friend in that silent city, the person who would with malice aforethought [illegible] approach the monuments erected by parents or loving friends over the remains of departed dear ones, with any other than that feeling of sacredness is certainly unworthy the respect of every christian in the land. In one instance a beautiful piece of sculpture placed upon the tomb stone has been abstracted. Another, the ears of two [illegible] surmounting a small stone covering the grave of [illegible] have been mutilated. Other things were also noticed, which we refrain from speaking of. Such species of [illegible] to the feelings of those who have placed their loved ones and kindred in their last resting place on earth, [illegible] disconsolate; we can only class it as depravity [illegible] of ghoulism, and the perpetrators, if [illegible] should be made to pay dear the penalty of their crimes.

WATER AT ITS HEIGHT. – The water began falling in the river on Saturday morning, after gaining a point [illegible] feet and seven inches above low water mark. The last rise has been from the 11th inst. On June 2d the water stood 19 feet 1 inch above low mark; on the 6th [illegible] one inch, and on the 9th had fallen 13 inches, [illegible] it again stood for two days, then rising until the [illegible], gained six inches above the mark of June 1st. The fall of water since Saturday morning is 9 inches, showing the stage on Friday last as above given. The [illegible] of the aqua this season has proven that speculations as to a flood in this region are about as uncertain as [illegible] in greenbacks. At no time has the water [illegible] the grade of Front street than six feet. From [illegible] we hear the water is falling rapidly.

[illegible] AN IRON MINE. – Workmen have been sent to the vicinity of St. Helens during the past few days, [illegible] to commence the work of developing the [illegible] of iron known to exist in that region, and the [illegible] will be systematically inaugurated in the [illegible]. Samples of the ore sent recently to San Francisco have proved it to contain no deleterious substances. The practical working of the mine is entirely dependent on the extent of it. If found to be of sufficient extent, the erection of smelting furnaces will [illegible] be done, and the manufactory of bar iron [illegible] be commenced. The projectors of the enterprise are men of capital, and only need to be convinced on one point, to enter upon the work energetically.

DROWNING OF A MAN AND HORSE. – On Saturday last a man whose name we did not learn was [illegible] below this city, from riding into the [illegible] horseback. The horse was also drowned [illegible] to have lost all presence of mind by [illegible] deep water among logs confined by a [illegible]. The Coroner held an inquest over his body and returned a verdict in accordance with [illegible]. The horse was a valuable one, the property of Messrs. Bennett & White, liverymen, [illegible] of Second and Morrison streets, and was [illegible] rode for exercise.

FOURTH OF JULY AT BELLPASSI. – The citizens of [illegible] will celebrate the coming Fourth of July in an appropriate manner, at which they extend [illegible] for a general attendance. Rev. W. J. [illegible] will deliver the oration, and Joseph M. [illegible] is selected as reader of the day. The [illegible] characteristics of the Bellpassi people, [illegible] no room for doubt but that the occasion will [illegible] worthy in every respect.

[illegible]. – The new boat lately built at West [illegible] to be run on the Willamette river at this [illegible] as a ferry, arrived yesterday in tow of the [illegible] John H. Couch, and will soon receive her [illegible], and begin active operations.

[illegible] OUT. – The steamer Wilson G. Hunt [illegible] her last trip on Saturday, previous to being [illegible] out for complete repairs. She was going on to the ways yesterday in consequence of the [illegible] decline of water in the river.

FAVOR. – This office is again placed under obligations to McCormick for copies of the very latest Eastern papers – pictorials, &c. No one hurries up the Eastern files faster than McCormick.

MASONIC. – The Annual Communication of the [illegible] W. Grand Lodge of Oregon, will commence at the Hall of Willamette Lodge this morning at 11 o'clock.

[illegible] STEAMER JENNY. – This steamer will resume trips to [illegible] to-day, in place of the Wilson G. Hunt.

The Trial of the Assassins

The following is a condensed account of the trial of the assassins during the first two days after the reporters for the press were admitted. We cannot give all the evidence, as it is too voluminous, but we shall endeavor to give an intelligible synopsis of it as the reports of the trial reach us.

THE COURT ROOM

The court is held at the Old Penitentiary in an upper room with two windows east and two north. The windows are grated with flat bars.

THE COUNSEL FOR THE ACCUSED ARE

Mr Thomas Ewing, son of the Ohio ex-Senator, Attorney Stone, Mr Walter S Cox, Hon Reverdy Johnson, and Messrs Aiken and Clampett.

THE MEMBERS OF THE COURT ARE

Major General David Hunter, U S V
Major General Lewis Wallace, U S V
Brevet Major General August V Kautz, U S V
Brigadier General Albion P Howe, U S V
Brigadier General Robert S. Foster, U S V
Brevet Brigadier General James A Ekin, U S V
Brigadier General T W Harris, U S V
Brevet Colonel C H Tompkins, U S A
Lieut Col D R Clendenin, Eight Illinois cavalry
Brigadier General Joseph Holt, Judge Advocate

THE TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, May 11, 1865

Yesterday noon all the vigilant reporters were agreeably surprised by being admitted to the Court room where the assassins and conspirators are on trial. On being admitted we found ourselves in a room some 25 or 30 feet wide and 40 or 50 long, with six grated windows on the side and ends.

On a raised platform across the west end, elevated two feet from the floor, are the seven men prisoners with as many more soldiers and detectives, sitting on a bench along the wall and behind a stout wooden fence. They have apparently filed in, one by one, from their cells through a new iron door at the end of the platform.

The accused are all heavily ironed, hands and feet, the detectives sitting among them to secure to them a fair identification by witnesses.

Dr Mudd, the most intelligent, is quite attentive and sits farthest from the door. Arnold is nervous and fidgetty, evidently frightened.—Payne, who attempted to murder the Seward family, was in his gray shirt sleeves, without coat or vest. He is quite tall, hair fighting out, bad face, forehead villainously low, and head almost flat in the moral regions. He meets one's gaze with unflinching eye.

Spangler looks as if constantly trying to control himself. O'Laughlin is alert, and has heavy black hair, with mustache and imperial. Atzerott is a German, five feet high, and sits sullen and indifferent; has not much sensitiveness.

Mrs Surratt is permitted to sit down near the table occupied by the Court, at the side of her counsel, Reverdy Johnson, and has manacles only upon her ankles. She is a stout widow of sixty and is closely veiled all day. During the first day of her appearance she exhibited great stolidity and defiance, but to-day, for the first time she shed tears and was quite agitated when the testimony regarding herself was being taken.

In the sparring between Gens. Hunter and Harris on the one hand and Reverdy Johnson on the other, the distinguished Senator from Maryland came out decidedly second best.

The testimony elicited by the Court during the week demonstrates beyond question that Vice President Johnson was to have been slain by Atzerott. Mr Johnson was in his room all the evening and Atzerott took a room at the hotel on that fatal Friday morning in which he and Booth were in conversation. At nine o'clock that night, after the President went to the theater, a horse was at the door when Booth fired that cowardly shot Atzerott's courage seemed to have failed him, for he ran from the room without assaulting Johnson, leaving his pistol under his pillow and a bowie-knife under the mattress, his coat upon the wall and fled upon the horse. He was arrested in Charles county.

WASHINGTON, May 15, 1865

The trial of the conspirators was resumed to day and [illegible] were admitted.

Payne is a villainous looking man, tall and of huge proportions, neck bare and like a bullock, face smoothly shaven, a shock of black hair over a low forehead, and fierce eyes with small corners, around which the white is always disagreeably visible. He leans his head straight back against the wall, and when looked at, glares the looker out of countenance. He is the very man that would be selected for any atrocious deed like the murder of the Secretary of State, and a band of pirates would instinctively elect him as their captain. Any one meeting him on the street would turn around with a shudder to look at him, and a stranger — [illegible] him face to face, would remember him for ten years. His appearance is every way very remarkable.

Harrold has just escaped boyhood, and has a small face, with a feeble, timid expression. He looks like a harmless though rather a mean fellow, easily led. He has a thin, inoffensive head depressed in the regions of combativeness, and appears exactly the tool which Booth made of him.

Atzerott is a vulgar looking creature, but not apparently ferocious, combativeness is large, but in the region of firmness his head is lacking where Payne's is immense. He has a protruding jaw, and a mustache turned up at the end, and a short, insignificant looking face. He is just the man to promise to commit murder and then fail on coming to the point. Mrs. Surratt calls him a "stick," and she is probably right.

O'Laughlin is charged with intending the assassination of Gen. Grant. He looks like Booth, with black hair, mustache and imperial. He would not naturally be selected for any brutal business though bad habits have made their marks on his face.

Spangler has a long face and thin head, indicating a mild disposition easily controlled by others. He looks like an average carpenter of forty, as he is, and must have been, like Harrold, John Surratt and Arnold, the mere tool of stronger and more vicious persons.

Payne is certainly the boldest and most cunning of all these prisoners.

Mrs. Surratt is of large frame, but appears like a woman of considerable intelligence. She has been quite depressed for two or three days, and sheds tears quietly now and then.

The first feeling which the visitor experiences on entering the room is one of surprise at the conspicious meanness, coarseness and vulgarity of the prisoners. There is not one of them, perhaps excepting Mudd and Mrs. Surratt, who has sufficient character to enter into any such conspiracy as this, from any motive less base than money. None of the rest have apparently enough personal independence and moral purpose, for even treason to fasten energetically upon, and Payne is obviously one of those brutes at large who would just as readily have undertaken to kill Davis as Seward, if he had been hired for that job.

To-day there were some ten or twelve reporters in Court, beside Gen. Schenk, Senator Wilson, Gen. Ashley, Senator Folger, and other distinguished men.

It appears from the minutes of the Military Court that on Saturday, Samuel Arnold, through his counsel, Thomas Ewing, jr., set up the plea that this Military Court has no power to try him on the charges preferred, for the reason that in these times of peace resort should be had to the civil tribunals.

The Court after deliberation, overruled the plea.

Arnold then asked that he be tried separately from the others, but this request was also denied.

O'Laughlin has procured counsel, and it is represented that Mr Walter Cox and Colonel Wm E Doster appears for Atzerott and Payne.

On Saturday it was moved that if the record created no objections on the part of the Judges Advocate, for any or all of the accused, the presence of the several witnesses need not be considered of material necessity.

Mr Aiken, assistant counsel for Mrs Surratt, expressed his willingness to accede to such an arrangement, except in the case of Weichman, whom he desired present, however that the witness might hear the record of his testimony read and that he re-examine him on new ground which as he alleged had been brought forth in the examination of the subsequent witnesses.

It was decided by the Court that the reasons stated, did not justify the delay that the finding and recalling of Weichman would occasion and the reading of the record was proceeded with.

After a time Mr Weichman entered and heard the reading of the portion of his cross examination conducted by Mr Ewing and several corrections were made.

Through the kindness of the Judge Advocate the press was furnished with a copy of the charges and specifications, which are as follows

CHARGES AND SPECIFICATIONS

Charge 1.—For maliciously, unlawfully and traitorously and in aid of the existing armed rebellion against the United States of America on or before the 6th day of March A D 1865, and on divers other days between that day and the 15th day of April 1865, combining, confederating and conspiring together with one John H. D. 1865, at the hour of about ten o'clock and fifteen minutes P. Surratt and Samuel Arnold and their confederates with knowledge of their murderous and traitorous conspiracy aforesaid and with intent to aid, abet and assist them in the execution thereof and in escaping from justice, after the murder of the said Abraham Lincoln, in pursuance of said conspiracy in manner aforesaid.

By order of the President of the United States.
J. HOLT, Judge Advocate Gen.

Mr Johnson the eminent counsel of Mrs Surratt this morning when the whole of the testimony rendered by Mr Weichmann had been read from the records applied to be permitted to ask him some questions before he retired.

This was objected to by Major-Gen Wallace. The President then remarked that the witness had been already examined by counsel and had a fair opportunity afforded.

The Judge Advocate General then asked whether it was to be a cross examination, and being told by the counsel that it was, the Court under the Advocate's suggestion, determined that he could call up the witness hereafter for the defendants, if it would be an economy of time.

Gen Wallace withdrew his objection, adding, however that he did so only for this time. He said, I placed my objection on the ground that these objections would prove interminable unless stopped by some rule, after counsel have once had a full opportunity for cross examination.

MOTTO—"The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Cloth and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public began to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machines the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines making likewise the interlockstitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes, as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what they can do before making a purchase.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED

In One Minute.

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco

DEAR SIR; WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you will understand this lock, and of course, will not allow yourself to be deceived by such representations. We have just sent to you one of our men with the lock, and he in our presence opened one of Lillie's best safe locks after it had been locked and the combination turned off,

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations. qlt.

GLOUCESTER, March 25, 1864

Messrs TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called "safe" was taken from the ruins and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe with what is left of the papers as you will see that not one of them is legible or is long enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed H. Jewett & Hardy's ... opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs McK & H's cellar—such as lard, pork, etc.—their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the cloth ling business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire faring, however no better than ours.

Very respectfully
Your obedient servants,
(Signed) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO

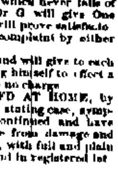
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor; Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Camb Place, Padd., Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower st.; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary, Charring Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road, Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe a sure Preventive against Diseases and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St. near Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets. For as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates or pretended patients' letters, etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy you to his ability at his office of his ability to treat because that he proposes to cure.
